

Revering “Gomatha”- Preserving ecology

Deputy Dean addressing the students

Lighting of the Lamp

Prayer

PPT on Go Matha

Students from Chennai School, NGM participated

Presenting the Green Initiatives of PSBB

Feeding the cow

Adorning the cow

Student performing Go Pooja

Chief Guest addressing the gathering

Dance on Sustaining Environment

Dance on revering Go Matha

Lord Krishna has stated in the Bhagavad Gita that one must rejoice in the welfare of all creatures. Our tradition regards all forms of life as sacred. Occupying a special place is the cow – the nourisher and undemanding provider. Hence, in veneration of this sacred animal, as part of the IMCTF initiative, Go Vandanam Samaskaram was organized at PSBB, T Nagar on 27.6.2019. Among chants of the “Go-Stuthi” the students worshipped the animal, offering adornments, garlands and food. The importance of protecting this selfless animal, the virtues it embodies and the need to accord it its due respect and place in ecology was highlighted through a PPT.

Understanding our responsibility to society and the importance of maintaining harmony with nature, PSBB has undertaken several “Go Green” initiatives. This was highlighted by another PowerPoint presentation. The dances by the students on the need to protect nature as well as to save cows added a dash of colour to the programme.

The Chief Guest for the day was the Carnatic Musician and Harikatha exponent, Smt. B. Suchitra. In her keynote address, she narrated the story of Saint Jnananeshwar. He believed that all creatures should be respected and saw God in all of them. She urged students to use resources judiciously. Students from Chennai School, Nungambakkam also attended the programme along with their teachers. The programme ended with the students taking the IMCT pledge to protect and nurture all life forms. In Albert Einstein's words, "... must widen our circle of compassion to embrace all living creatures and the whole of Nature in its beauty."

IVY SCRIBES – Media Club

PSBB T. Nagar