

'Google' Meets Krishna

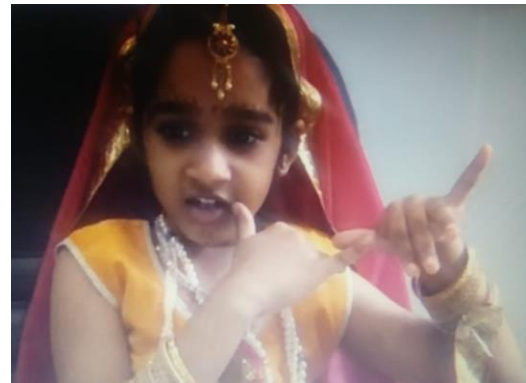

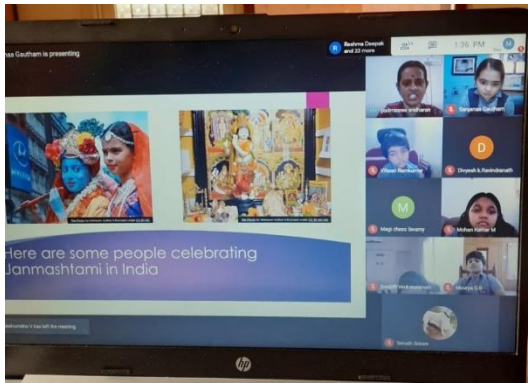

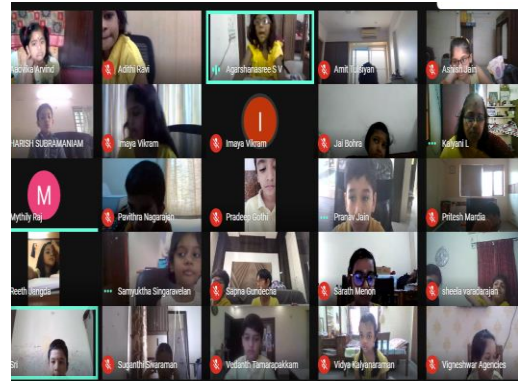

The occasion of 'Gokulashtami' is usually celebrated with great joy and excitement at PSBB T. Nagar every year mostly by the children of the Primary. This year the students enjoyed the birth and visit of Lord Krishna from their respective homes through the Google Meet Platform.

Students of Pre and LKG dressed as little Krishnas and Radhas and looked very cute on their videos. UKG students sported Krishna's crown.

In classes 1 to 5, a few students narrated the story of Lord Krishna's birth. Beautiful illustrations of pullikolam, peacock feather, baby Lord Krishna were done and displayed in the Art and Craft period. Students recited slokas and sang songs in praise of Lord Krishna.

In the Indian music classes, the children were virtually transported to Vrindavan itself, through interactive story telling sessions and discussions on the various names and forms of Krishna. Talented dancers and singers gave wonderful performances, enthusiastically dressed in appropriate costumes to bring about the atmosphere of joy and excitement of Janmashtami.

IVY SCRIBES – Media Club
PSBB T. Nagar